

There is no need for telemarketing and anyone who supports the advertisers desire to intrude upon my privacy has nothing but contempt for those people who have limited mobility, or those waiting for a phone call from the hospital or family member (just a few examples).

Telemarketing is cruel to some and invasive to all.

Do you want to be thought of as either stupid or cruel? Do you care?